

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON STANCE, (INTER)SUBJECTIVITY &
IDENTITY IN DISCOURSE (STANCEDISC'20)
(ON-LINE)

FINAL CALL FOR PAPERS

The Department of English Studies: Linguistics and Literature and the research project STANCEDISC (PGC2018-095798-B-I00), are pleased to announce the International Conference on STANCE, (INTER)SUBJECTIVITY & IDENTITY IN DISCOURSE 2020, which will be held as a ON-LINE EVENT at the Facultad de Filología, Universidad Complutense de Madrid, 9-11 September 2020.

In view of the current situation, caused by the COVID-19 pandemic, the organizing committee have decided to continue with the event, but to hold the conference as an on-line event. It is essential to protect the health of all the conference participants.

We will be using user-friendly technology, and we will arrange to have pre-conference virtual sessions with all the participants a few days prior to the conference, to help you become familiar with the platform.

See below and check our webpage for new dates for deadlines for submission, registration, etc., and new conference fees:

*****

The conference aims to cover a broad range of research concerned with the domains of stance, (inter)subjectivity and identity, with special interest in cognitive, critical discourse, and corpus-driven approaches. Some proposed topic areas and approaches include:

- Epistemicity: evidentiality and epistemic modality
- Stance and inter/subjectivity in discourse
- Stance and identity in discourse
- Stance and evaluation
- Metaphor and evaluation
- Effectivity: deonticity, directivity
- Corpus-based case studies
- Crosslinguistic case studies

STANCEDISC'20 invites contributions for general session papers and theme specific panels. A selection of papers based on contributions presented in this conference will be published in a special issue of an international journal and/or with a prestigious academic publisher.

PLENARY SPEAKERS

Kasper Boye (University of Copenhagen)

Paul Chilton (University of Warwick)

Raymond Gibbs (University of California, Santa Cruz)

Vasiliki Simaki (Lund University)

GUIDELINES FOR SUBMISSION: GENERAL SESSION PAPERS

The language of the conference for the plenaries and the general session is English.

An anonymous copy of your abstract (max. 300 words, excluding references), in Word or PDF format, should be submitted via email to: stancedisc@ucm.es

Please include paper title, name, affiliation, email address and any other contact details in the body of the e-mail message.

Participants may submit a maximum of two abstracts, that is, no more than one single-authored paper and one joint-authored paper, or two joint-authored papers.

All abstracts will be double blind peer-reviewed. They should include research questions, approach, method, data and (expected) results.

Paper presentations will be allocated 20 minutes, plus 10 minutes for questions and discussion.

GUIDELINES FOR SUBMISSION: THEME SPECIFIC PANELS

Proposals for theme specific panels should include the name(s) of the convenor(s), title and a 500-word description of the topic (see instructions for paper abstracts above), and a list of participants, including 300 word abstracts of their papers.

Theme panel convenors are encouraged to distribute an open call for papers on the Linguist List, or other distribution lists.

The theme panel sessions will consist of a maximum of 8 slots, each with the same time format as the general session papers (20 min. + 10 min. discussion). Each session may include an introductory paper by a keynote speaker, and an additional 30-minute slot for final discussion on the topic, further issues and questions for future research.

The languages for the theme panels may be: English, French, German, Italian and Spanish.
