The School of Languages and Social Sciences at Aston University is proud to host the 6th International Critical Link Conference, which will bring together representatives from every sphere of the public service interpreting community.

If you are an academic, interpreting practitioner, employer, trainer, policy maker, service provider or service recipient, the 26th - 30th July 2010 will be a date you'll want to make. Critical Link 6 will provide you with the opportunity to participate in a lively and stimulating international exchange of information, knowledge and skills.

We have great pleasure in inviting you to this leading international conference which is held every three years, and is a highly respected, global platform for practitioners, researchers, decision makers, academics and customers.

This event will take place at the Aston University campus, in the centre of the exciting and vibrant city of Birmingham, in the heart of the United Kingdom. From the campus you will have the opportunity to explore the unique industrial heritage of the city and the beautiful surrounding English countryside.
