The Handbook of Communication in Cross-cultural Perspective

Edited by Donal Carbaugh, University of Massachusetts,
Amherst, USA

Series: ICA Handbook Series

This handbook brings together 26 ethnographic research reports from around the world about communication. The studies explore 13 languages from 17 countries across 6 continents. Together, the studies examine, through cultural analyses, communication practices in cross-cultural perspective. In doing so, and as a global community of scholars, the studies explore the diversity in ways communication is understood around the world, examine specific cultural traditions in the study of communication, and thus inform readers about the range of ways communication is understood around the world.
