

The American Indian Language Development Institute:
A Thirty Year Tradition of Speaking from Our Heart
June 8-July 2, 2009

30th Anniversary Symposium
June 29 - July 2, 2009

Please join us for the 30th Annual American Indian Language Development Institute which will be held at the University of Arizona. AILDI 2009 will offer a variety of classes, special presentations, workshops, and events to help celebrate our 30 years of commitment to Indigenous language education.

Course Topics, Special Presentations & Workshops include...

- Language immersion methods for language revitalization
- Documenting your language through film
- Native American linguistics for your community
- Native American children's literature
- Language and Native American youth culture
- Development of materials for your language classrooms

AILDI's mission is to mobilize efforts to document, revitalize and promote Indigenous languages, reinforcing the processes of intergenerational language transfer. AILDI plays a critical role in ongoing outreach, training, and collaborative partnerships with educators, schools and Indigenous communities nationally and internationally through the use of multiple resources.

Support future students with a donation to our AILDI Founders Scholarship Fund.
