

Recurring Questions of Technology: A Brief History of Consciousness and Learning

UBC/SFU Summer Institute, July 9-13, 2012

Join us for a 5-day UBC/SFU summer course that will be run as an open institute, with leading scholars exploring how technology, as a particular regard for tools and techniques, reflects a state of consciousness that bears on our ideas of learning.

The dynamic institute will be conducted over the course of a week, providing a rich platform for ongoing research to be shared and built upon by engaging students, faculty, and community members.

Each day of the course and institute has its own theme and instructors and is accompanied by an afternoon lecture, which are free and open to the public.

CLASSES | 9:00 ~ 3:00

PUBLIC LECTURE SERIES | 3:30 ~ 5:00

Pre-registration is required to attend classes, but not for the afternoon lectures.
