Language Revitalization in the 21st Century: Going Global, Staying Local

May 31 - June 1, NYC

THE GRADUATE CENTER

CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

International Centre for Language Revitalisation

The CUNY Graduate Center and the International Centre for Language Revitalisation of the Auckland University of Technology will hold a two-day symposium on language revitalization in New York City, May 31st – June 1st 2012.

The first day will include two keynote addresses and a host of invited speakers, followed by an evening reception in honor of Dr. Joshua Fishman, concluding with a film screening and roundtable with Dr. Tīmoti Kāretu and Dr. Wharehuia Milroy (Māori). The second day will include a poster session, presentations from UNESCO, the Smithonisan Institute and the International Centre for Language Revitasation, concluding with a film festival and roundtable hosted in cooperation with the Film and Video Center of Smithosonian National Museum of the American Indian.

A central goal of the symposium is to share successful revitalization strategies.

Keynote Speakers

Dr. Tīmoti Kāretu, MāoriJesse Little Doe Baird, Wôpanâak

Registration is required due to limited space. Please visit the website: http://opencuny.org/languagerevitalizationinthe21stcentury/ and like our Facebook page to receive updates:

www.facebook.com/CUNYAUT2012

Day 1: Thursday 31 May 2012, 9:00am - 5:00pm (registration begins at 8:00am) Segal Theater

CUNY Graduate Center

365 Fifth Avenue, New York, NY 10016.

Evening: Thursday 31 May 2012, 6:30pm - 9:30pm National Museum of the American Indian - Auditorium One Bowling Green, New York, NY 10004.

Day 2: Friday 1 June 2012, 9:00am - 5:00pm National Museum of the American Indian - Auditorium One Bowling Green, New York, NY 10004.