

Master of Arts in Anthropology

The Anthropology Department at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte offers a two year program of study leading to a Master of Arts degree in either general or applied Anthropology. Students take a challenging core program before embarking on their own research. We welcome applicants from other fields who have had some coursework in Anthropology. Our department specializes in:

Gender and Culture

Environmental and Urban Anthropology

RITUAL AND RELIGION

Politics of Language and Exchange

Anthropology of Food

Bioarchaeology

Applied Anthropology

Archaeology of Complex Societies

Medical Anthropology

Evolution and Genetics

Global Public Health

Development and Human Rights

Our MA program prepares students for:

- ❖ Applied work with in the public and private sectors, with NGOs, non-profits, cultural resource management firms, and a variety of other private companies.
- ❖ Teaching in Anthropology.
- ❖ Ph.D. programs in Anthropology and related fields (Geography, History, Religious Studies, Area Studies)
