8-10 November 2024
Zhuhai, China
Call for Workshops

Proposal Submission Deadline: 20 November 2023

Notification of Acceptance: 18 December 2023

Workshop Date: 9 November 2024

The 15th International Conference of the Association for Linguistic Typology will be held at the Zhuhai, Guangdong Province, campus of Beijing Normal University, on 8-10 November (Friday-Sunday), 2024. Here we invite proposals for organized workshops, which will take place on the second day of the conference. Proposals may address any topic of interest to the ALT community, including issues of regional interest, particular linguistic phenomena, and methodological developments.

Accepted workshops will be publicly announced with the general ALT 2024 call for oral presentations and posters, which will go out in January 2024. For each workshop, approximately one-third of the slots should be filled by abstracts solicited through the open call. Abstracts solicited through the open call will undergo a blind review by both the workshop organizers and members of the Abstract Review Committee.

Proposals for workshops should contain:

- A title and brief (1-2 pages) description of the workshop topic and content.
- The desired workshop length (full day or half day), the desired format and length of presentations, and an estimated number of the workshop presenters, both for the selected participants and for those solicited through the open call.
- The names, affiliations and emails of the organizer(s), with a short statement of their research interests and areas of expertise.
- The names and affiliations of confirmed or tentative workshop presenters.
- A description of special requirements for technical needs.
- A brief (one paragraph) description of the workshop for the open call.

Proposals will be reviewed by the ALT 2024 Program Committee.

Notification of acceptance of workshop proposals will take place by 18 December 2023.
