Call for papers

The 2025 edition of the Transalpine Typology Meeting (TTM25) will be held at the University of Pavia, Italy, on July 2-3, 2025. Our goal is to create an open network of typologists and share insights and feedback on our research projects in a welcoming and informal context. In this regard, we warmly invite submissions for oral presentations on topics related to linguistic typology and comparative linguistics in general from early-career researchers (PhD students, postdoc fellows) as well as experienced scholars worldwide.

Abstracts for presentations can address a broad range of topics within typology and comparative linguistics, including (but not limited to):

- Cross-linguistic comparison of specific phenomena on any level of analysis (phonology, morphosyntax, semantics, lexicon, pragmatics, ...).
- Areal typology and language contact (e.g., areal patterns, Sprachbund, ...).
- Diachronic typology and language change.
- Typological perspectives on endangered and minority languages.
- Quantitative and computational approaches to typological research.
- Methodology of typological research.
- Investigation of language-specific phenomena in typological perspective.

Submission Guidelines:

Submissions should be anonymous and meet the following requirements:

- Abstract length: Max. 500 words (including examples and figures, excluding references).
- Format: PDF, 12-point font.
- Language: English.

Proposals can be submitted until January 31, 2025.

The outcome of the review process will be notified by March 1, 2025.
